Model 420 was the replacement for the 40 in the John Deere line of tractors in 1956. It's said the 40W was the prototype for the 420s. Three types or "phases" of 420's were produced corresponding to the three years the model was manufactured. The serial numbering differed from the 40 in that the number began at 80001 and was consecutive.
